The Canadian Pacific Railroad company's steamer Montague went ashore. All the business in the city is at a standstill. The typhoon lasted for two hours. Later report.

Hitchcock is ashore and the steamer Montague is ashore. Three British steamers are sunk and four German steamers ashore, one in a sinking condition.

BECAME WEALTHY AND FORGOT ABOUT WIFE

PLATFORM QUESTION STILL BOTHERS THE POLITICIANS

Just What Is Intended To Be Accomplished Cannot As Yet Be Thoroughly Understood.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 18.—"Senator La Follette has not made up a program of action with reference to the platform convention to be held here Tuesday of next week," said Assemblyman A. H. Dahl, republican nominee for state treasurer, who was present at the recent conference at the country home of Senator La Follette. Those who attended the conference declare that they all are for the election of Governor Davidson, and while they desire as vigorous as possible a declaration for a continuation of the reform program of the republicans in this state, they wish to make no fight on the platform or otherwise interpose opposition to the plans of the head of the ticket. They will observe with interest, however, whether the Davidson platform is as vigorous in warfare against corporations as were the stump declarations of the governor when he was seeking the nomination. It is recalled that Governor Davidson early in the campaign said there were no issues, but after being scored for this by Senator La Follette denied the statement and then brought out a choice variety of issues, among them perfection of the primary election law, further legislation for control of public service corporations, a two-cent passenger rate and other reforms. Some friends of Senator La Follette believe that there "is a deal on" between Governor Davidson and the stalwarts and will watch his platform making to observe if he gives any evidence of this being a fact. The Davidson people are not likely to invite criticism from the La Follette camp, however, and will doubtless make a platform of strong declarations, but they admit that they want it to be brief and confined almost entirely to state matters and not go into national issues at all.

INDIANA MINERS WIN STRIKE

Vandalia Coal Company Grants Demands and Reinstates Men.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 18.—As the result of overtures made Monday by the officials of the Vandalia Coal company to the district officials of the miners of Indiana, the strike at the mines of the coal company which involved 3,000 men, has been declared off, and the miners returned to work. The coal company made its proposition through General Manager John Hewitt and grants all the demands of the miners. However, the right of appeal to the courts for a final adjudication of the controversy is reserved by the company in its proposition.

The strike grew out of the discharge of three men accused of firing shots during the hours when coal is hoisted. The miners say that the agreement did not intend to modify the custom of firing shots at certain hours, when coal hoisting is suspended although the hours are within the prescribed working day.

In the agreement reached Monday the men will be reinstated, they will be paid in full for the time they have been idle and the conditions will remain as they were before the strike was ordered.

NOVELIST TO WIN POINT BUT NOT BE NOMINATED

Winston Churchill Has Been Seeking Gubernatorial Honors In The Granite State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Concord, N. H., Sept. 18.—The republican state convention which is assembled here today is one of the most notable gatherings of its kind which the Granite State has ever seen, marking the close of a campaign that has attracted attention far beyond state lines. Four candidates are actively engaged in trying to win the place at the head of the ticket. They are Charles H. Greenleaf, Charles M. Floyd, Roscoe W. Pillsbury and Winston Churchill.

The great issue this year is the question of corporation domination in politics. Messrs. Greenleaf and Floyd represent the conservative element, holding that state affairs are being well conducted and that no radical changes of any kind are necessary. Mr. Greenleaf is looked upon as the candidate of the regular republican organization and has the support of United States Senator Jacob H. Gallinger, who is chairman of the republican state committee.

Mr. Pillsbury, upon announcing his candidacy, declared that the conduct of state affairs for the past few years had been bad, and attributed this to the influence of the republican party "machine." He insists that state expenses have been increasing too rapidly, and that there are too many commissions carrying on state business.

Winston Churchill, the novelist, is responsible for much of the interest in the campaign. He is out for governor on a unique platform. He attacks the Boston & Maine railroad, and declares that its influence in New Hampshire politics is paramount. He says that this influence was largely gained through the issuance of free passes by the railroad to members of the legislature and others, and declares that such passes should be abolished. He also advocates a direct primary law, tax reform measures and the elimination of the lobby in the legislature.

VOLIVIA AND DOWIEITE FIGHTING FOR CONTROL

Overseer Of Zion City Being Elected Today According To Recent Order Of Circuit Court.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 18.—This was election day in Zion City and for the time being all the residents of the Dowie community let affairs of business and religion go by the board while they gave their attention to the battle at the polls. The election was for a general overseer (trustee of the church's property), and was held in pursuance of the order of the circuit court, which took this method of straightening out the town and its industries. There are two candidates for the position of general overseer. One is Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who supplanted Dowie in authority, while the other is Alfred E. Bills, who is generally supposed to be a candidate in the interests of Dowie. Voliva has conducted his campaign on a platform that declares for the rehabilitation of the manufacturing plants of Zion City, while the fight of Bills has been along the lines that the real wealth of the community lies in the wealth of the soil, that the manufacturing plants attract an undesirable class and therefore should be abolished, leaving Zion solely to the home-builders. The result of the election, probably will not be definitely known before tomorrow.

THE HIGH FEES

RUSH FOR NATURALIZATION PAPERS AT COURTHOUSE.

THE NEW CITIZENS GALORE

Mostly Austrians and Germans Who Swear Allegiance to Uncle Sam.

Over two hundred new citizens will be entitled to vote in Rock county at the fall elections. They are men who have taken out their first papers and have recently received their final ones which make them naturalized American citizens. Clerk of Circuit Court Stevens and his assistant, Miss Genevieve Rich, have been working every night until eight or nine o'clock swearing in and examining applicants and their witnesses. Each applicant is given a number and they are required to come in order so as to expedite the work. The majority of the applicants are German, Austrian and Scandinavian.

Unusual Rush

This unusual rush is caused by the new naturalization law passed by the last Congress and approved. Nine events must take effect, ninety days after date, which will make the law operative after September twenty-seventh. By this new radical changes are made in the naturalization statutes of the United States. The jurisdiction of the courts is limited to applicants residing within its jurisdiction, the applicant when he takes out his first papers must file a paper giving his name, age, nationality, occupation in the country from which he came and in this country, whether he is married or not, what ship he came to this country on, and whether he intends to stay in this country permanently.

Post the Names

The clerk of the court must then post the name and age of the applicant for ninety days. No hearing of any petition can be had thirty days before any general election. Each applicant must take an oath that he is not opposed to organized government and no person can be admitted who cannot speak the English language. Each applicant is required to forswear his allegiance to his former sovereign and to all titles of nobility of which he may be the possessor.

The Result

As a result of this new law a large number of persons are taking out their second papers. Some of the applicants of the past two weeks took out their first papers over fifty years ago. Under the new law the fees are five dollars instead of one as formerly. All these fees go to the county. Clerk Stevens and his assistant, Miss Rich, getting nothing for working late each night to accommodate those wishing to take advantage of the old law.

FILLING HOLE WITH THE GREATEST SPEED

Work on the Washington Street Washout is Being Rushed Along.

The Washington street washout in the first ward is being rapidly filled up and Contractor McGavin of Beloit said this morning that the street would probably be passable for teams in about two weeks. About thirty men are at work on the job at present, and fifteen teams. Part of the men and teams are living in tents set up in the neighborhood and a portable camp has been established. Some of the dirt for the filling is being scraped from the surface near the washout and part is being hauled from Washington street between Terrace and Bluff. Washington street between Terrace and West Bluff street is also being prepared for macadamizing and a considerable force of men and teams is at work there. Owing to there being no lanterns placed at the corner where the digging commences one of the itinerant vegetable men who are going around the city drove into the hole smashing his axel and most of the watermelons in his wagon. These he passed out to the small boys of the neighborhood who seemed to appreciate them.

LARGEST MASS

MEET EVER HELD

RESOLVED FOR GRANTING OF LIBERAL INTERURBAN FRANCHISE.

COMMITTEE VISITS COUNCIL

And Will Confer With Judiciary Committee of Latter Body Thursday Afternoon.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting consisting of not less than three hundred citizens of Janesville, that the mayor and common council of this city be requested to grant to the Janesville & Madison Interurban Railroad company the franchise which was printed in the Janesville Daily Gazette, subject, however, to such modifications and amendments as in their judgment shall tend to the benefit of the whole city.

This resolution, proposed by Capt. Pliny Norcross, was last evening passed almost unanimously at the largest mass meeting held in the city for many years, and sent to the council as a whole. After negotiations with the same body a committee of five, representing both sides on the question, the enthusiasts and the objectors, was appointed to confer with the judiciary committee of the council. Malcolm G. Jeffris was named as chairman and as associates George S. Parker, president of the meeting, selected W. H. Greenman, John Cunningham, James Tiffel and Fred Sheldon. An hour's joint session was held and it was then determined to adjourn until Thursday afternoon when the franchise, asked for by the interurban, will be carefully read, clause for clause, and such changes as to properly safeguard the interests of the city and still give the interurban people a square and liberal deal will be proposed.

Four Hundred Present.

The mass meeting was called to order shortly after seven o'clock last evening, about four hundred representative residents being gathered in the assembly room of the city hall. George S. Parker, chairman of the meeting by reason of his position as president of the Janesville Advance Association, which issued the call, briefly stated the purpose as follows: We are here to decide whether Janesville is in line for progression and advancement like Rockford, Beloit and other cities near us. It may sound bad to say "Beloit," but the fact remains that she is booming and growing. That an interurban will benefit the city is certain for every interurban city of Ohio and Indiana is live and wide awake. Here we have an opportunity to get a road and I for my part can hardly believe the franchise will be turned down by the council. The motioned men who have nerve to invest in such an enterprise must be given encouragement. The city's interests can be well safeguarded without much change in the franchise asked for.

But One Entirely Opposed.

Expressions were then called for from W. H. Greenman, Charles Conrad, John Cunningham, Fred Sheldon, James Tiffel, H. B. Cunningham, M. G. Jeffris, M. R. Osburn, F. S. Baines, Pliny Norcross, T. S. Nolan and E. F. Carpenter. Among other speakers were E. D. McGowan, J. P. Wright, D. S. French and J. J. Cunningham. Mr. French was the only one to object to the road entirely. He owns the hitching stable on North Franklin street and claims that another track in front of the building would practically ruin him, alleging that it would depreciate his property and kill his business, which he says is already injured by the Rockford line. Attorney John Cunningham represented thirty South Main street property owners and said the road was wanted and that he was in favor of giving a liberal franchise, but considered the freight clause too broad and thought the road should agree to stand the expense of maintaining streets and bridges over which they pass. Attorney J. J. Cunningham, appearing for other property owners, sought to have no action taken by the meeting, pleading that such might foreclose just objections that can be raised to the granting of the franchise in present form.

Franchise Not Worth Cent.

Charles Conrad called for M. G. Jeffris. The latter spoke at some length. In part he said: The sentiment of this meeting seems to favor the granting of a franchise under certain conditions. However, all kinds of strings can be put on and Janesville will get the road for the projector must have a good proposition in order to get the capital to back the enterprise. The street railway business in a town like Janesville is far different than in Milwaukee or Chicago, where a franchise is valuable. Here it is worthless for history of the past twenty-five years shows us that a street railway has never paid in a town of less than twenty thousand. Hence we can hardly demand paying between the tracks until we reach that size. The freight nuisance is largely imaginary. It is a physical impossibility for a freight car to be taken around a city street corner and the franchise does not ask that more than two cars be run at once. There is but one danger, as far as I can see, and that is in the incorporation of the street railway franchise in this franchise. This would exclude all other lines; but as I do not think the promoters of the interurban mean that we should tie our hands, I believe they would submit to an amendment that will remedy this fault. There is this danger but the securing of the road will be one step toward the 25,000 mark at which we are aiming.

Raise Beets, Tobacco and Hail.

M. R. Osburn, general superintendent of the Rock County Sugar company, went on record in favor of a liberal franchise. He said it behooved to be hauled on the line the acreage would be increased and the time it would take a distance hitherto inaccessible because of the distance from Janesville and from shipping points. The four hundred employees of the factory would also be patrons of the passenger department. At Mount Clemens, Mich., about one-half of beets are hauled to the factory over an interurban line. Captain Norcross said if the output of farm products in the surrounding country was increased the town would be benefited because it helped when anything was raised—beets, corn, tobacco or hail. E. D. McGowan spoke in favor of a hearty endorsement of the proposed franchise and pointed to Rockford, Bloomington and Freeport as examples of places that have benefited by "paying" through concessions for the roads.

Nolan Answered Objections.

John Cunningham had previously thought a half hour local service should be guaranteed. Mr. Nolan replied that this was in the city franchise, and would be superfluous in the interurban agreement, which includes the city franchise. Mr. Nolan further spoke of the freight clause. He called attention to the fact that no objections were raised when cattle and hogs were brought into the city in droves on wagons, and then contrasted this system with the plan of carrying them on swiftly moving electric cars. Mr. Carpenter added another thought along the same line. He said Main street was now ruined by heavy loads and yet never a person sought to have the farmers' carts out. Many other interesting points, too numerous to mention, were brought out.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 18.—Besides eleven schooners wrecked at Belle Isle recently by storms, seven others with over 100 souls aboard were driven ashore on the Labrador coast. Four fatalities only are reported thus far.

The Political Ladies.

The political ladies are not making revolution; they are making a rout. The report of every meeting will say, in a fixed formula, "the minutes having been read and confirmed and the ladies elected, the business of the meeting began." It will be put on the agenda as a regular thing. At last it will become a quaint old ceremonial. A woman will be technically assaulted to make a meeting valid.—Illustrated London News.

Must Answer for Our Deeds.

One of the brightest jewels in the crown of the teachings of the great moralists in all ages is unquestionably the doctrine that sins are of three kinds, in thought, in word, and in deed. But of the three the deed is that for which we are most fully responsible.

Bassett & Echlin Won.

On Saturday in the first game of a series, the Bassett & Echlin team took the deciding victory over the Lewis Knitting company aggregation in a ten inning game, the score being 17 and 10. Wilkerson and Gregory were the battery for the Bassett & Echlin team, Adkins and Campbell the battery on the losing side.

Beer Is An Aid To Digestion

A Well Known Physician Says It Increases Activity of the Stomach and Is Good Food.

Dr. F. M. P. Smithwick, of La Grange, N. C., who is prominent in the medical profession is his state and an authority on foods values, agrees with other eminent physicians that beer is a wholesome beverage, beneficial to the health. In a recent interview, Dr. Smithwick said:

"I believe beer to be a great benefit by aiding digestion and assimilation. I think it is of food value to the human organism; not only on account of the vegetable and cereal ingredients it contains, but also on account of the small percentage of alcohol present, which aids digestion by increasing the activity of the stomach."

Doctors say, Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the beer to drink, the most healthful beer. It is the richest in food value, of which Dr. Smithwick speaks, because brewed only from Pabst's exclusive eight-day malt and choicest imported hops. All physicians say, "therefore the malt, the more wholesome the beer." Pabst's exclusive eight-day malt is the richest malt made, because grown from best selected barley and grown slowly without any unnatural development. It retains in Pabst Beer all food elements of the barley in pre-digested form. Malt which is grown by the usual four-day process loses the vital food strength of the barley and beer made from four-day malt cannot be rich in food value.

Pabst Blue Ribbon is the superior of all beers in food strength, purity and cleanliness. It is aged for months before leaving the brewery and is the best beer to taste, most refreshing and satisfying.

COUNCIL DISCUSSED FRANCHISE IN STARROOM SESSION.

RIVER STREET CURB LINE

Monthly Report of Marshal—Sidewalk Ordinances and Orders For Street Repairs.

At the close of the mass meeting in the city hall last evening a hundred or more citizens gathered in the council room to watch the fate of the interurban franchise. They were sorely disappointed for after waiting about an hour the judiciary committee held an hour's star room session with the mass meeting committee. Alderman Dulin, of the judiciary committee, simply asked for more time. There were no objections and Mayor Hutchinson granted the request. The gallery slowly dwindled in size but many remained and heard sidewalk ordinances, orders for street repairs, the report and adoption of the finance committee's monthly report and other routine work of no general interest.

River Street Curbing Question.

The question of establishing a curb line on the easterly side of North river street between the northerly line of the fire department property, extending to Wall street, was settled for the time being. Without granting any concessions to property owners, whose buildings now extend eighteen feet in to the original 60 foot plat of the highway, the present curb line was allowed to remain temporarily. At any future time this can be changed by further order of the council or proper legal action.

Marshal's Monthly Report.

Chief of Police Appleby's report for the month of August showed a total of 95 arrests, as follows: Burglary 3; larceny 6; forgery 1; drunk 68; violation city ordinance 8; and assault and battery 9. Of the total 29 were taken into court and 66 were discharged. A total of $72 worth of stolen property was recovered and returned to the owners. The arrests were made as follows: Appleby 15, Brown 11, Benke 11, Champion 17, Dulin 5, Mason 18, Morrissey 3, Panning 43, Palmer 1 and Dalton 1.

New Street Signs.

The American Sign company offered to furnish the city with 700 or more street signs at 40 cents each delivered or 50 cents each put up. Also 3,000 or approximately that number of house numbers delivered at 35 cents each. The signs were ordered upon motion of Ald. Plsh.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, September 18, 1856. The fair in Milwaukee, which closed in Milwaukee on Saturday, was a gratifying success, but we apprehend did not give the reach the anticipation of its projectors. The weather was threatening and gloomy all the time, and no doubt detracted largely from the attendance. There were many exciting exhibitions of speed on the track and the show of general articles was creditable. On the whole we think the projectors of the fair have just reason to congratulate themselves on the large measure of success which attended their enterprise.

The First Lecture of the Course.—The first lecture of the course to be given before the Young Men's Association will be delivered in the Baptist Tabernacle Thursday evening, the 21st inst., by the celebrated "Blind Preacher," Rev. W. H. Milburn.

Our citizens have not forgotten the splendid course of lectures furnished by the Association last year and will not fail to give them a liberal patronage during the coming season. One thing is especially notable and that is that the Association employs none but the most talented lecturers.

Mr. Milburn justly ranks among the first lecturers in the country. He has been engaged in lecturing in the east several seasons and has always been greeted by large and delighted audiences; he has just finished a course in Chicago and is spoken of in the most complimentary terms.

We are glad that our citizens will have a chance to hear him.

PROSPERITY, NOT A FICTION.

In these days of unparalleled prosperity, when everybody is busy, it is surprising that the people are not satisfied to let well enough alone, and yet what is left of democracy added

by a disgruntled element in the republican party is clamoring for tariff revision.

If there was ever a time when the masses should be contented that time is now. Prosperity is so general that everyone shares in it.

The trust problem is regarded as the great bugaboo of the age, and it is argued that a reduction of the tariff would annihilate the trust and restore the middleman to his place in business.

What are the facts concerning concentration and the small business man? In 1880, there were 479,439 retail merchants in the United States. In 1900, the number had increased to 535,197.

During the same period, manufacturing plants increased from 252,852 to 512,276.

In 1880, the number of farmers who owned their farms was 2,984,306. In 1900 there were 3,712,498.

The Anti-Trust League of Commercial Travelers welcomed Bryan when he landed in New York. It has been claimed that trusts and concentration have depleted the ranks of traveling men, but what do the census statistics show?

In 1880, 25,158 men were employed on the road, while in 1900 the number increased to 92,363.

The protective tariff has fostered

and encouraged American industries

and has been the salvation of American labor. While there are a few items that might be regulated to advantage it is a bad thing to tinker with, and the best interests of the country demand that it be let alone.

The times are good and it is the best time to make hay that the nation has ever known.

The Kansas City Journal recently published this brief summary prepared by F. R. T. Gordon of Reading,

Mass. It indicates the reality of the prosperity against which the apostles of discontent delight to rail:

"There are 100,000 stockholders in the United States Steel corporation, of whom about 35,000 are employees.

There are 9,000 stockholders in the Swift Beef company, of whom 4,000

are employees. There are 7,000 farmers who own stock in the Illinois Central railroad. Eighty per cent of the stock of the great Santa Fe railroad is owned by small stockholders. Nearly 36,000 farmers own stock in the Boston & Maine railroad system. Forty-eight per cent of the families of this nation own some real estate.

Ninety-five per cent of the real estate mortgages of this nation represent prosperity. That is, they represent a family that starting from home-

ing is gradually paying for a home."

WHERE ARE WE AT?

This is the question being asked

this morning regarding the interurban franchise. A representative meeting of taxpayers which filled the assembly chamber last evening was practically a unit in demanding of the council prompt and favorable action on the ordinance pending. Yet

the resolution passed had a sting attached to it to gratify a few disgruntled property-owners on South

Main street and Milwaukee avenue.

The council adjourned without action. To be sure a meeting is called for Thursday to overhaul the ordinance, and discuss amendments. This simply means an attempt at a decent burial for Mr. Clough has already ordered all preliminary work stopped and advised Mr. Nolan that unless the ordinance passes as published the enterprise will be abandoned.

At a meeting of property-owners and representative men held two or three months ago, Mr. Clough presented his plan and outlined the ordinance which would be necessary to carry the enterprise through. Mr.

Nolan presented the same to the council informally at that time and was assured that no opposition would be offered.

On the strength of this pledge preliminary work has been done, and money expended freely by Mr. Clough and his associates. It is not putting it too strong to say that delay and haggling over minor points in the ordinance amounts to the violation of a moral obligation and defeats the will and wishes of 90 per cent of the taxpayers of the city.

It is an outrage, pure and simple.

and if it results in failure the council will be held accountable.

What do the objections amount to?

Certainly not the freight clause, for it was fully demonstrated last evening that the people want the benefits that will accrue from that privilege.

A fragment of the property-owners on South Main street object to having a dilapidated street railway system replaced by a modern and up-to-date line. Why? Because the cars will keep them awake nights. Milwaukee avenue files a protest on the ground that the street is too narrow, and yet it is wider than Milwaukee street bridge, where there is more traffic in a day than there is on the avenue in a month.

One of the attorneys in speaking for the objectors last night suggested that it was better for the company to satisfy the people now than to be a party to litigation which might follow.

This, of course, amounted to a veiled threat, and it is safe to say that the men who are expected to furnish the million dollars or more to build the road have no money to spend on this kind of law-suits.

The community interests of a city are of more importance than the whims of a few individuals, and these are the interests which the council is expected to recognize and serve.

Every member of the council knows that his constituency is practically a unit in demanding the passage of the franchise and it should have passed under suspended rules at the meeting last night.

The Gazette expresses public sentiment in saying: "Let the amendments go. Call a special meeting of the council and pass the ordinance, as it is." If outside capital is willing to invest a million dollars give it a chance.

THE ARMY CANTEN

A retiring army officer who has been in the service for more than forty years says of the army canteen:

"It would seem unnecessary to argue to a fair-minded person the superiority of a system which provides a mild alcoholic beverage at reasonable cost in moderate quantities under strict military control to one which result in luring the soldier away from his barracks to neighboring dives, where his body and soul are poisoned and ruined by vile liquors,

with the accompanying vice of har-lotry, and where his money is taken from him by gamblers and thieves."

This sentiment is endorsed by practically every army officer in the nation. They are men who are in a position to know whereof they speak,

and are entitled to more consideration

than the clamor of a lot of sentimental people who imagine that they are serving the cause of temperance by opposing the army canteen.

Congress will do well to heed the advice of the men in the field. They are both temperate and moral, and their request is entitled to consideration.

The democratic state central committee of New York is so badly demoralized since Bryan's "Madison Square" speech that the office force has been greatly reduced and business practically suspended. The Vermont election has also had a depressing influence.

Disgruntled McGovern, the defeated candidate, is urged to run independent by a disgruntled constituency. The primary law may be all right under some conditions, but it seems to have played horse with the La Follette machine.

Convince the home buyer that he can save money by patronizing the home market and the mail order houses will do less business. This can only be done through persistent and intelligent publicity. Prices tell the story. There is no sentiment in business.

Senator La Follette forgot to endorse the state ticket before his departure for New Jersey. He expects to bring home the scalp of Senator

Dryden as another relic of reform virtue.

Between tariff revision and government ownership of railways the Bryan party is struggling with two paramount issues, either of which is large enough to swamp the party.

Mr. Hearst will succeed in splitting the democratic party in New York and thus assist in electing a republican governor.

Mr. Bryan finds it difficult to modify his statement concerning government ownership of railroads.

NECKLACE FROM THAMES.

Lost for Year, Recovered by Workman Who Didn't Know Its Value.

A valuable pearl necklace lost in the Thames over a year ago by a lady of title has just been recovered by its owner, says the London Tribune. Some months ago a Henley-on-

Thames workman walking by the side of the river, near Shipplake Ferry, saw something glistening in the water, and getting the object out, he found that it was a pearl necklace. Thinking the gems, however, were only imitation, he casually carried the necklace home in his pocket and gave it to his wife.

She occasionally wore it, but never dreamed of its real value until some little time ago, when she broke the clasp and took it to a local jeweler

to be repaired. The jeweler at once saw that the pearls were valuable,

and, not satisfied with the woman's story, he sent for the police. The pearls were handed over to the custody of the police, and in due course were advertised by them as found.

A few days ago the necklace was identified and claimed by a lady well known in fashionable circles, who had dropped it into the river while staying at a Thameside mansion near Henley.

The pearls are valued at £40 or

£50, and the man who found them

has received a check for five pounds

WAIT DECISIONS OF THE COUNCIL

MR. CLOUGH WIRES IMPORTANT ORDERS AS TO INTERURBAN.

THE SURVEYORS STOP WORK

Elyria Man Will Put No More Work on Interurban Until Franchise Is Decided.

Telegraphic orders were received from H. E. Clough this morning calling in the two parties of surveyors, who have been working for two months past laying out the proposed road between Janesville and Madison. It is evidently Mr. Clough's purpose not to go any further, expense as regards the proposed road until the question is settled definitely.

This move on the part of Mr. Clough is apparently not intended to be a bluff, but merely as a precautionary measure as he has stated in letters and telegrams that if the present application for a franchise, as presented to the council for their consideration, is changed materially he will refuse to consider it. Last spring Mr. Clough met with representative business men, told them his plans and they accepted them for the citizens. He then met with the members of the council, repeated his plans and what he should ask for in his franchise, and they told him to go ahead for they would grant what he desired.

Delays, Come.
Since that time considerable agitation has been stirred up in different parts of the city over the matter and it is probable that when the business men's committee and the council committee on judiciary get together they will present a franchise that Mr. Clough will not accept. One report that Mr. Clough wants the franchise to come into the city is denied in strongest terms by those who are conversant with the status of affairs. Another report is current that Clough does not intend to build a road, but wants to get a franchise and then sell it. During the past five years these franchises have been asked for persons desiring to build a road to Madison. Two were granted. One to Phil Spooner, was declared invalid by the supreme court and the other was dropped. Had the franchise in itself extended over a year, finally, of any value, it could and would have been sold so this disproves the theory of waiting it for sale.

People Favor It.
If a vote were taken on the question today the proposition as it stands without any change would doubtless win by a large majority. The greatest opposition appears to come from retired farmers who, as one expressed it today, do not care to see the town grow. It is big enough for them. Another opposition is the freight clause although this is clearly defined in the application for franchise.

Meet Thursday.
The committee of citizens and that of the council meet Thursday at which time Mr. Clough may be present and matters may be adjusted.

TWO-TON ROCK ARE BEING BLASTED OUT

Wonderful Work Being Done in Beloit of Launch-Owners in Clearing River.

When the present work of clearing the channel of Rock river of stumps and stones and other obstructions is completed Janesville launch-owners will have one of the finest strips of waterways to enjoy themselves on to be found anywhere in the country. A trip up the river through the winding channel, past the low meadows, through the high bluffs by the old dam and up to Indian Ford is an ideal one that delights strangers accustomed to the Hudson and other magnificent streams. Under the personal supervision of F. F. Pierson the Janesville Boat Club has begun the work of clearing the channel of all obstructions.

Use Dynamite.
By the use of dynamite this is accomplished easily and huge rocks, some of them two tons in weight, are hurled out onto the bank, where they will no longer bother unwary mariners. In fact, so much work has been accomplished this past summer that Mr. Pierson and Mr. McKee are this afternoon hoping to complete the last mile and a half to the Ford. Six or eight sticks of dynamite are used, set off by a fuse and a cap and the rocks fly out of the water and another obstruction is gone. The water is thrown up a hundred feet by the explosion, but thus far no fish have been killed as is sometimes the case. It is a quick and sure way of removing the rocks and stumps and when once out of the way launches can travel anywhere in safety.

Reorganize Club.
A little later a meeting of the Janesville Boat Club is to be held and a reorganization completed. With the Indian Ford Transportation Company road in operation and the channel well cleared and marked with flags navigation on the Rock will be given an impetus next spring that bids fair to see the present fleet nearly doubled. Each year new launches have been added to the miniature navy and many enthusiasts have already placed orders for boats for next year's service. Boat-owners, however, should first consult with Mr. Pierson and learn the channel from him, so as to avoid any accidents.

Cigarette Wins in the East.

PLANS FOR THE WINTER'S WORK

Y. M. C. A. PHYSICAL DIRECTOR ARRANGES CLASS SCHEDULE.

MANY BASKETBALL GAMES

New Class for Boys Who Carry Papers—Fencers Will Be Given Instruction.

William Colgrove, the newly appointed Physical Director at the Y. M. C. A., has his gymnasium work well under way and is now perfecting plans for the winter's program. There will be several new classes in addition to the usual number and among the features in prospect is a basketball game nearly every Saturday night and a fencing class. The gymnasium has been carefully inspected and slight repairs made. The turning rings have been carefully relettered and the baskets for basketball have been changed to regulation type. New apparatus that is needed this winter will be purchased and one of the best seasons the Association has enjoyed is in prospect.

The Fencing Class.
Fencing has never been a popular sport in Janesville. There are several residents of the city who are enthusiastic over the art of the foils and there are even some expert fencers. There was once a movement on foot to organize a class in the Association, but no teacher could be secured. Mr. Colgrove is an adept at the art, having taught fencing in other associations and being especially trained for its instruction. It will not be for a month probably before the class is organized, but many have already evidenced their interest. Each member of the class will be required to purchase his own foil, mask and glove. And of course a fencing jacket is better than any other body protection, but not necessary.

Basketball Schedule.
Mr. Colgrove hopes to have several different teams besides a first team in the Y. M. C. A. and his idea is to have a game nearly every Saturday evening. Some of these will be interdepartment contests and others between the first five and the high school aggregation. If the material is good and a strong team can be developed a schedule with teams in nearby cities will be arranged. Indoor baseball of late years has not enjoyed much attention, but just season the game took a decided turn and it is possible that the fever will reach Janesville this year. If it does teams will be organized and basketball will be supplanted at times.

Seventeen Gym Classes.
The schedule of regular gymnasium classes has been made out. There are seventeen in all, taking the physical director's entire time. Among the new classes is one for the working boys between seven and eight o'clock Monday and Wednesday evenings. This class will include kids of little more than the junior age, who are busy between the time of school dismissal and supper. The schedule is appended, showing the hours.
INTERMEDIATE—Tuesday, 5:15; Friday, 6:45 to 7; Leaders, Tuesday, 7:30.

A JUNIOR—Monday and Thursday, 4:30 to 5:30; Leaders, Thursday, 4 to 4:30.

B JUNIOR—Wednesday, 4:30 to 5:25; Saturday, 10:15 to 11:30; Leaders, Saturday, 9:45 to 10:10.

WORKING BOYS—Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 8.

YOUNG MEN—Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 8:15 to 9:30; Leaders, Saturday, 7 to 8.

BUSINESS MEN—Tuesday and Friday, 5:15 to 6:30.

It is very likely that a non-day class for businessmen who do not go home to meals at that hour will be organized.

CHAPTER XII.

It is possible even in Loango to have a fling, but the carousers must be prepared to face, even in the midst of his revelry, the haunting thought that the exercise of the strictest economy in any other part of the world might be a preferable pastime.

During the three days following his arrival Victor Durnovo indulged, according to his lights, in the doubtful pleasure mentioned. He purchased at the best factory the best clothes obtainable; he lived in a hotel, a house chiefly affected and supported by ship captains. He spent freely of money that was not his and laughed himself to sleep, leaving the life of a gentleman. He rode round on a hired horse to call on his friends, and on the afternoon of the sixth day he was at the gate of the Gordons' luncheon.

A few minutes later Jocelyn came into the drawing room, where he was waiting, with a beaming face and a slaking heart. Somehow the very room had power to bring him down toward his own level. When he set eyes on Jocelyn, in her fair, Saxon beauty, he regained himself.

"She appeared to be rather glad to see him,"

"I thought," she said, "that you had gone back to the expedition?"

"Not without coming to say goodbye," he answered. "It is not likely."

Just to demonstrate how fully he felt at ease he took a chair without waiting for an invitation and sat tapping his foot with his whip, looking her furtively up and down all the while with an appraising eye.

"And when do you go?" she asked, with a subtle change in her tone which did not penetrate through his mental epidermis.

"I suppose in a few days now. But I'll let you know all right, never fear."

Victor Durnovo stretched out his legs and made himself quite at home, but Jocelyn did not sit down. On the contrary, she remained standing persistently and significantly.

"Maurice gone away?" he inquired.

"Yes."

"And left you all alone?" in a tone of light badinage.

"I am accustomed to being left," she answered gravely.

"I don't quite like it, you know."

"You?"

She looked at him with a steady surprise which made him feel a trifle uncomfortable.

"Well, you know," he was forced to explain, shuffling the while uneasily in his chair and dropping his whip, "one naturally takes an interest in one's friends' welfare. You and Maurice are the best friends I have in Loango."

"Maurice has always spoken of you with gratitude," she said.

"To dear ears, oh? Yes, he has reason to be grateful, though perhaps I ought not to say it. I have put him into several very good things on the coast, and it is in my power to get him into this new scheme. It is a big thing; he would be a rich man in no time."

He rose from his seat and deliberately crossed the room to the sofa where she had sat down, where he reclined, with one arm stretched out along the back of it toward her. In his other hand he held his riding whip, with which he began to stroke the skirt of her dress, which reached along the floor almost to his feet.

"Would you like him to be in it?" he asked, with a meaning glance beneath his lashes. "It is a pity to throw away a good chance; his position is not so very secure, you know."

She gave a strange little hunted glance round the room. She was wedged into a corner and could not rise without incurring the risk of his saying something she did not wish to hear. Then she leaned forward and deliberately withdrew her dress from the touch of his whip, which was, in its way, a subtle caress.

"Is he throwing away the chance?" she asked.

"No, but you are."

Then she rose from her seat, and, standing in the middle of the room, faced him with a sudden gleam in her eyes.

"I do not see what it has to do with me," she said; "I do not know anything about Maurice's business arrangements and very little about his business friends."

"Then let me tell you, Jocelyn—well, then, Miss Gordon, if you prefer it—that you will know more about one of his business friends before you have finished with him. I've got Maurice more or less in my power now and it rests with you."

At this moment a shadow darkened the floor of the veranda and an instant later Jack Meredith walked quietly in by the window.

"Enter, young man," he said dramatically, "by window-center."

"I am sorry," he went on in a different tone to Jocelyn, "to come in this unceremonious way, but the servant told me that you were on the veranda with Durnovo, and—"

He turned toward the half breed, pausing.

"And Durnovo is the man I want," weighing each word.

Durnovo's right hand was in his jacket pocket. Seeing Meredith's proffered salutation, he slowly withdrew it and shook hands.

The flash of hatred was still in his eyes when Jack Meredith turned upon him with aggravating courtesy. The pleasant, half cynical glance wandered from Durnovo's dark face very deliberately down to his jacket pocket, where the stock of a revolver was perfectly concealed.

"We were getting anxious about you," he explained, "seeing that you did not come back. Of course, we knew that you were capable of taking care of yourself."

He was still looking innocently at the telltale jacket pocket, and Durnovo, following the direction of his glance, hastily thrust his hand into it.

"But one can never tell what a treacherous climate like this what a day may bring forth. However, I am glad to find you looking so very fit."

"Victor Durnovo gave an awkward little laugh, extremely conscious of the factory clothes."

"Oh, yes; I'm all right," he said. "I was going to start this evening."

The girl stood behind them, with a flush slowly fading from her face. There are some women who become suddenly beautiful, not by the glow of a beautiful thought, not by the exaltation of a lofty virtue, but by the mere practical human flash. Jack Meredith, when he took his eyes from Durnovo's, glancing at Jocelyn, suddenly became aware of the presence of a beautiful woman.

"The crisis was past, and, if Jack knew it, so did Jocelyn." She knew that the imperturbable gentleness of the Englishman had conveyed to the more passionate West Indian the simple, downright fact that in a lady's drawing room there was to be no raised voice, no itching fingers, no flash of fiery eyes.

"Yes," he said, "that will suit me splendidly. We will travel together."

He turned to Jocelyn.

"I hear your brother is away?"

"Yes, for a few days. He has gone up the coast."

Then there was a silence. They both paused, helping each other as if by prearrangement, and Victor Durnovo suddenly felt that he must go. He rose and picked up the whip which he had dropped on the matting. There was no help for it—the united wills of these two people were too strong for him.

Jack Meredith passed out of the veranda with him, murmuring something about giving him a leg up. While they were walking round the house, Victor Durnovo made one of those hideous mistakes which one remembers all through life with a sudden rush of warm shame and self contempt. The very thing that was uppermost in his mind to be avoided suddenly bubbled to his lips, almost, it would seem, in defiance of his own will.

"What about the small—the small—poor?" he asked.

"We have got it under," replied Jack quietly. "We had a very bad time for three days, but we got all the cases isolated and prevented it from spreading. Of course we could do little or nothing to save them; they died."

Durnovo had the air of a whipped dog. His mind was a blank. He simply had nothing to say. The humiliation of utter self contempt was his.

The Initial Blanket Sale---Saving Chances For You.

Here's a money saving event--the economies are due to a purchase made from a foremost manufacturer last February--when prices were way down. They have just been delivered--and immediately go on sale. If we bought these now we would have to pay a fourth more. But that fact doesn't influence our selling in the least. Prices are just as low as the low February prices will allow and that's pretty low indeed. Compare these prices with those at other stores--THEN YOU WILL DECIDE TO BUY BLANKETS NOW AND HERE.

This week we will make a special display of BLANKETS, COMFORTS, FEATHER and DOWN PILLOWS, BATH ROBE BLANKETS, BABY CAB ROBES. It's an opportunity to get posted, and if not ready to buy now, we feel that one will be so favorably impressed with the showing we make, the values we offer, the completeness of our stock, that when ready to buy The Big Store's great stock will be remembered.

A WORLD OF BLANKETS:

COTTON--Size 10-4, gray and tan, at 50, 58, 65c, $1.00. Size 11-4 at 1.10, 1.25, 1.45, 1.50, 1.75, $2.00. White, 10-4 at 65, 75, 85c, $1.00; 11-4 at 1.25, 1.50; 12-4 at $2.00.

WOOL--10-4, gray, $3.50; 11-4 at 4 1/4, 5, 6 1/4, 7 1/4, 8 1/4 dollars. White, 11-4 at 5, 6, 7, 7 1/4, 8 1/4, 9, 10, 11 dollars. Plaids--Beautiful styles, 11-4, at 6, 6 1/4, 8 1/4, 10 dollars. Red, extra special, 11-4, $10.

BATH ROBE BLANKETS, fancy patterns, entirely new, 1 1/4, 1 3/4, 2, 2 1/4, 3 1/4 dollars. We make them up in our dressmaking department.

BABY CAB FUR ROBES, odorless, 1 1-2, 3 1-2, 4 1-2, 5, 6, 6 1-2, 7, 7 1-2 dollars.

Our Blankets are such well known brands as North Star, Amana Society, Davenport, and others less known but A1 grades.

PILLOWS--Ours are the Sanitary Brand, the best obtainable. Prices 75c to $3.50 each in mixed feathers--live goose, half down, all down. Feathers by the pound, values the very best, from 60c to 85c.
